

START

TAYLOR is seen on his/her phone on the inside of his/her house. MORGAN and BLAKE enter as they approach Taylor's front door.

MORGAN

This seems to be the place. Have you worked much in this neighborhood before?

BLAKE

I was just out this way last week.

MORGAN

Excellent. Any questions on your end?

BLAKE

Are we going to actually do this?

MORGAN

Yes. Absolutely. You are ready then?

BLAKE

Always.

MORGAN

Wonderful.

Morgan rings the doorbell. Taylor does not react. Morgan rings the doorbell again. Taylor looks up from his/her phone and then goes back to the phone.

MORGAN

Well, I guess we beat him/her home from school somehow.

BLAKE

Or he's/she's ignoring us.

MORGAN

What makes you say that?

BLAKE

The fact that I can see him/her through the window. And I'd do the same thing if someone I didn't know just showed up.

MORGAN

Well we are here to help and that's what we are going to do.

Morgan rings the doorbell again. Taylor, visibly irritated, gets up and looks out the window at Morgan and Blake. Morgan flails his arms to direct Taylor to the door. Taylor opens the door and stands in the doorway.

TAYLOR

Yeah?

MORGAN

Hello, my name is Morgan and this is Blake. We are from Wellness helps. We are responding to a call we got from Mr/s Reynolds. Are you Taylor?

Notification is heard.

TAYLOR

Uh, yeah, but I'm not interested. Thanks.

MORGAN

Like I said Taylor we are responding to a call from Mr/s Reynolds. May we come in?

TAYLOR

Yeah, no. Thanks again.

Taylor closes the door.

BLAKE

That went quickly. Shall we move on?

MORGAN

Not yet. His/her guardian may be home soon enough. It's possible.

BLAKE

It may also be possible that they haven't even listened to their voicemail yet and don't plan to come home for another few hours still. I'm not saying we don't try to come back later, but sitting on a stoop for an inordinate amount of time when others may also need us seems less than efficient.

MORGAN

Do you really believe that?

BLAKE

In the literal sense? Yes. But that's because there may be other people that also need us that might actually let us in. Am I wrong?

MORGAN

No you're not wrong Blake. Fine.

END

Morgan pulls out his phone to call Amanda.
Phone rings. We hear Amanda but do not see her.

AMANDA

What's up Morgan?

MORGAN

Good afternoon Amanda. How is your day going?

AMANDA

It's fine. Busy. Is there something I can help with?

MORGAN

Yes. It seems this current call we are on is going to take longer than expected.

AMANDA

So the guardian agreed to your help?

MORGAN

Not exactly.

AMANDA

Then what is going on?

MORGAN

Well, Taylor - the youth - would not let us in and the guardian is not yet home.

AMANDA

Ok. So it sounds like a situation where you may want to circle back later on today. We actually just got another referral that you could respond to that's not too far from where you are now.

MORGAN

Oh. Ok. Then yes that makes sense. I just wanted to make sure -

A car door lock is heard. Jordan is seen entering.
